When the Wake Forest University Howler was created ninety years ago, the school was a small Baptist institution located in Wake Forest. Today, the school has moved to Winston-Salem, broken from the Baptist church, and has become the top small university in the South.

The yearbook was named the Howler after a monthly newsletter which was posted on the tree bulletin board at the old campus. The tree "howled" out information to those who walked by. The students would gather around the tree and read the newsletter which pictured life in the Wake Forest community. Even though the school has changed, we are still striving to picture student life at Wake Forest, just as the Howler has done for ninety years.

Sports Year In Review

The sports year began in late May when Dr. Gene Hooks announced his retirement as Athelite Director, a position he had held for 28 years. In late August, Coach Bill Dooley announced that he would retire from coaching football at the end of the season. In mid-October, Ron Wellman was named Athlette Director and his first job was to look for a new football coach.

While the search was continuing, Dooley was making history on the gridiron. After winning six straight games and becoming the winningest coach in ACC history and the ACC coach of the year, the team accepted a bid to the Independence Bowl. The 39-35 win over Oregon was the school's first bowl win since 1946. Jim Caldwell was introduced as the team's new coach several days before the game.

While the football team was making the noise, other Wake Forest sports were not doing to bad either. Over the year, nine teams (soccer, men's cross country, women's cross country, womens cross country, womens tennis, men's lennis, men's lennis, men's lennis, men's lennis, men's polf, football, and hasketball) were all ranked nationally.

Once football season was over, attention turned to the basketball court, where the Deacon's were ready to impress. Key points in the season included handing North Carolinait's worse ever ACC loss, banding Temple it's worse loss ever, and defeating Duko in the hallowed Cameron Indoor Stadium. The Deacon's moved into the rankings with a jump from being urranked to 13th in the nation.

After a loss in the first round of the ACC Tournament, the Deacons travelled to Nashville for the NCAA's. After wins over UT-Chattanooga and lowa, the Deacons came home to play Kentucky in Charlotte. The Sweet Sixteen wasn't good to Wake, but it was nice to know North Carolina came home with the National Championship.

On April 26, Rodney Rogers, the ACC Player of the Year, called a press conference. He announced his decision to leave Wake Forest for the NBA.

Spring sports provided the Deacons another chance to show that Wake Forest can compete against biggerschools. Both men's and women's track made great studes in hreaking out of the bottom of the conference. Baseball continued the improvements made over the past couple of years. Men's and women's tennis finished strong despite injuries. Men's and women's golf moved closer to the gold of a National Champronship.

Even though football was over, the NFL draft called for several players. Ben Coleman, John Henry Mills, and Mike McCrary all went in the regular draft, while George Coghill and Maurice Miller signed as free agents.

Overall, the sports program at Wake Forest is one of the best in the country. All teams won games, including field hockey in it's first year playing a full ACC schedule. Women's basketball won several big games, including one over Maryland, which is a signal of things to come.

Despite losing Rodney Rogers, Bill Dooley, and Dr. Hooks, the athletic program is moving towards an even greater year in 1993-94.

"When I was a student at Wake Forest, there was an interaction between faculty and students that transcended the normal relationship: the faculty seemed to really care about the students. It is much more difficult to maintain this environment when the university is seching to compete with major national universities. There is now more sense of competition in the classroom; I don't remember that it used to be like that."

Editor's Note: A special apology in addition to the general word of thanks is due to the departments that were actually willing to work with us this year, in particular the Art Department. Unfortunate for everyone were some tragic mix-ups in the photography staff (too many for words here), and some kind souls got caught in the middle. Again, sorry 'bout that; we at the Howler are nice people. Really. We also hope for peaceful and relatively trouble-free relations with all departments in the future. Peace.

Editor's Note: This book is different in many ways, so editoral comments should not be considered as being out-of-place. Special words of thanks are due to those organizations that worked with us to help create a more inclusive Organizations Section. THANK YOU!!! THANK YOU!!! YOUR EFFORTS ARE TRULY APPRECIATED!!! This has been a learning year for us all, but, alas, something great can arise out of all the turmoil this year; hopefully, next year's section will be even better.

Colophon

The 1993 Howler is the 91st edition of the Wake Forest University yearbook. The Howler is produced by the Student Publications Board of Wake Forest University. Opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the trustees, administration, faculty, staff, or students of Wake Forest University.

The Howler offices are located in Room 500, Benson University Center. All correspondence should be sent to Post Office Box 7306, Reynolda Station. Winston-Salem, North Carolina 27109.

This edition was printed by the Delmar Publishing Company in Charlotte, North Carolina. Our representative was Brian Hunter.

Copies of the book are provided free for all students of Wake Forest University. Funding is provided by the University through the Student Budget Advisory Committee in a random allocation process.

This edition contains 336 pages and had a trim size of nine by twelve. The press run was 2650 copies. Paper is 80 pound matte finish. Four color processing is on 64 pages and spot color and varnishing are on 24 pages. The cover is embossed with a die created from a photograph by Mathew W. Smith. Cover material is black lexotone with gold foil and gold silkscreen on the spine.

All pages were designed on Macintosh LC computers using Aldus Pagemaker 4.01. Pages were submitted on disk for publication.

Photographs for this edition were taken by members of the Wake Forest University Photo Staff using Kodak 100, 400 and 3200 black and white film. All black and white photographs were developed and printed in the campus darkrooms. Color slides were taken on Kodak and Fuji film and processed locally at Photo Lab and Talton Professional Photofinishing. All portraits were taken by Thornton Studios of New York City, New York. Our representative was Michael Sawchuk.

Advertising was solicited by Yearbook Press of Marietta, Georgia. Our representative was Larry Kraus.

I have no idea what else to put in the colophon. It seems to be a waste of space, but all yearbooks have them so I guess there is some reason for it.

This book is copyrighted by the editor-in-chief and the Wake Forest University Publications Board. All rights reserved. Editor's Note

Well, I have procrastinated long enough. I have to turn in the final deadline tomorrow and I still have not written the Editor's Note. Since I do not know where to begin, I will start with being picked as editor for the 1993 book. When Marian called me into her office and asked if I would be the editor, I said yes not knowing what a difficult road lay ahead. Needless to say, the 1992 Howler was a problem that I will never forget. As a result, I knew the directions I wanted to take with the book.

The first change was to return to the traditional yearbook organization which had been abandoned last year. Second, I wanted to place a greater emphasis on photography instead of copy. Photographers would be identified under their works. Fourth, the index would include more than just the classes section. The cover would reflect the traditional, classic image of Wake Forest. Finally, I wanted the book to come in on time and on budget, something that had not been done recently.

Hopefully these changes are apparent. The book has clearly defined sections with no theme, there is a small amount of copy, and photo credits are provided. The index is detailed, with only the honor societies not included (they will be next year), and the cover is classy and traditional. And even though I do not have our final costs, Caroline Hearn has kept costs under control. Finally, I am turning the book in on deadline, not several months late.

I have many people to thank for making this book possible. Caroline, thanks for all the advice over the year (no I am not being sarcastic). You ran our accounts like a real accountant. Mehera, the student life section looks great. Have fun editing The Student next year. Connie, you did so much this year. Not only did you have the hardest sections, you had to deal with difficult people all year. Rachel, J.J., Betty, Anne, and Alison, I know Connie appreciates all that you did. Nate, thanks for your help and good luck in grad school. I thank you and La for putting the Greeks together with what you had. Wendy, you really did help me out a great deal with sports. You will do a great job with it next year. Finally, thanks to Matt Smith. Not only did you take great pictures, you taught me to take great pictures. To the rest of the photo staff, thanks for putting up with me when I would call with a last minute assignment. The book would not be the same without photos. Holly, thanks for your help at the end of the year and I look forward to working with you more next year. I would also like to thank Dr. Perricone for being a great advisor and a great teacher. You let us handle everything, but were there when we needed you. Brian Hunter, the fearless Delmar representative, thanks for your yearbook wisdom and your stories about the UNC Yackety Yack to make me feel better when things got rough. Thanks to Vice President Ken Zick for being there to help us out.

I'll save the emotional stuff for next year, since I will be returning as editor of the 1994 Howler. Thanks go to my parents and sister for their support (even when I get in over my head), all of my Chi Psi brothers (especially the seniors), all of my friends, and Matt Rebello and SBAC (for making my fall semester unforgetable). A big thanks goes to the entire Wake Forest community for helping put this book together. I would also like to thank my professors, especially those in the History department, for helping me fulfill my main mission at Wake Forest - to learn. Finally, thanks to Bynum Shaw for his knowledge about Wake Forest, journalism, and the world. We will all miss you in your retirement. I know that I have left some important people out, but I thank them also. I hope this book means as much to all of you as it means to me.
